

Live, Work and Discover Japan!

ABOUT

The Japan Exchange and Teaching (JET) Program offers young professionals the opportunity to work in Japan as Assistant Language Teachers (ALTs) or Coordinators for International Relations (CIRs).

Since 1987, more than 70,000 JET Program participants from over 75 countries have lived and worked in cities, towns, and villages throughout Japan. Join JET and become part of this exclusive network of like-minded international enthusiasts!

To learn more, come and speak to a JET Program representative when they visit your campus!

POSITIONS

ALTs: Assistant Language Teachers work in public schools supporting Japanese teachers of English. Beyond using their native English ability to improve students' English fluency, they also serve as cultural ambassadors in their local communities. ALTs make up 90% of all JET Program participants.

CIRs: Coordinators for International Relations work in local government offices promoting internationalization efforts at the community. From organizing events to teaching adult education classes, CIRs provide essential services to Japanese and foreign residents alike. Advanced Japanese language ability is required for the CIR position.
