

Meeting with the delegations from the University Network for Global Leadership Development in West Japan

On February 27th, Mr. Keiji Hata, president of the Kurashiki University of Science and the Arts, faculty and staff, student representatives of the University Network for Global Leadership Development in West Japan visited the Consular Office of Japan in Saipan.

The University Network for Global Leadership Development in West Japan is a program aimed to train and develop the leadership skill of university students, high-school students, faculty and staff of Japan, through practical education, home-stay and conducting events to introduce Japanese culture in elementary and middle school in Saipan for a period of one week. The program is conducted around this time of the year and its been going on for over 10 years now.

The delegation explained about their annual plan, observation on students selective eating pattern and type of snacks consumed at school, food waste of school lunch and the “Marianas Kyushoku (school lunch) Project”, a program designed to resolve these issues pertaining to meals at the elementary and middle school in Saipan.
